	* This list does not guarantee scholarship opportunities. It is purely based on my research of individual college websites during February of 2021. Each college sets its own set of requirements and policies which could change at any time. This list is merely intended to give high-achieving students a list of colleges that, according to my research, offer generous amounts of institutional aid. Colleges quite often change their scholarship programs from year to year, so students need to contact Admissions representatives, at each college, to obtain the most recent information. V.
